Rationale	Great leaders and ministers are expected to be great communicators. In recent decades the nature and forms of communication have increased in complexity. Together with an increase in complexity is a corresponding increase in the importance of being a master communicator in all forms of communication within the ministry environment. Great communication in a ministry setting is not only concerned with articulation, it involves communication of spirit and life.
	The Bible describes various forms of communication which are utilised within ministry contexts and are vital for all forms of healthy relationships. Unless a minister is able to communicate effectively, a congregation may suffer. Against such a background this unit helps develop and enhance student's communication skills, by providing insight into relevant strategies for their development.
	This unit evaluates and explores communication as essential within ministry. It reflectively fosters pathways for effective communication in a variety of modes and ministry contexts.
