Rationale	Ministry and mission are central to the life of the church and have their origin in God and His ways. Indeed God is active in the world fulfilling His mission, and His people are participants in His ministry. Therefore a study of various preliminary elements of the practice of ministry enables the student to more fully understand the role they may engage in to fulfil Christ's mission or the 'Missio Dei'. The unit is designed to help students understand, communicate and relate with people in a wide range of ministry settings including preaching, pastoral care, worship, social ministry, evangelism, team-work and administration for the sake of nurturing growth in the community of believers. Through participation in this introductory unit, students are afforded an opportunity to grow in the outworking of their calling. This introductory unit will provide the basis for further studies and/or practice in the field of ministry. Due to the scope and rules of the course, students are unable to study all the specific ministry practices, but they will engage in essential elements on which further practice can be developed.
